

Time Article: COVID-19 Exposed the Faults in America's Elder Care System

Since the very beginning of the pandemic, nursing homes have been among the hardest hit. Not only is the elder population among the most vulnerable, there is also a lack of value placed on protecting them. Click here to read more.